- It is the exclusive right of inventor to prevent others from possessing, using, selling, manufacturing and importing the patented invention or offering to do any of these with in a definite geographical area.

- Patents have territorial jurisdiction i.e., we have to register the patents in all countries where we have our interests.

- Patent application can be filed online in India by inventor or his assignee on www.ipindia.nic.in Patent is an exclusive monopoly right:

- Granted by Government of India
- For an Invention
- To the Inventor or his Assignee
- As a Territorial Right
- In lieu of Disclosure of invention to the Government
- Term of Patent: 20 years from date of filing
In India, Patent rights are governed by the Patents Act, 1970. At present 3rd amendment of Act known as the Patent (Amendment) Act, 2005 is in force.

For application of Patents Act, rules are made by the Government, which are known as “Patent Rules, 2003”, as of now Patent (Amendment) Rule, 2006 and further updated in Sept’2015 are in force.

There are 4 patent offices in India having work distribution according to their geographical location viz. Kolkata, Delhi, Mumbai & Chennai.
Criteria of Patentability:

- Novelty
- Inventive step or it must be non-obvious
- Capable of industrial application
- Not fall within the provision of section 3 & 4 of the Patents Act 1970

Patents Act 1970:

- Section 3: List which are not inventions
  - Frivolous or obvious

INDUSTRIAL DESIGN

Ornamental or aesthetic aspect of a useful article of industry.

- Aspect that gives special appearance
- Aspect which differentiates from current products

Only the aesthetic/visual form of a product

- not the Technical (Patents)
- nor Distinguishing Features (Trade Marks)

The ornamental or aesthetic aspects of an article consist of:

- Three dimensional features, such as the shape, surface or texture of an article or
- Two dimensional features, such as patterns, lines or colours.

Design makes the product attractive and appealing to the consumers and adds to its commercial value for that reason.
Exclusive right against unauthorized copying

Protection normally lasts for an initial ten years, after which it can usually be renewed for, in most cases, up to 15 years.
TRADEMARKS

- Generally “Brand” or “Logo”
- A visual symbol which may be word signature, name, device, label, numerals or combination of colors used by one undertaking on goods or services or other articles of commerce to distinguish it from other similar goods or services originating from a different undertaking
- Any Name which is not unusual for trade to adopt as mark
- Device or Symbol or Monogram
- Shape of goods or their packing
- Combination of colors or even a single color in combination with word or device
Copyright is a legal term describing rights given to creators for their literary and artistic works.

The works covered by Copyright include:
- literary works such as novels, poems, plays, reference works, newspapers and articles
- computer programs and databases
- films, musical compositions, dance & theatrical productions
- artistic works such as paintings, drawings, photographs and sculptures
- architecture, advertisements, maps, technical drawings and manuals.

Copyright comes into existence as soon as the work is created and protects skill & labour employed by the creator in production of his work.

GIs identify agricultural, natural or manufactured goods associated with a territory/region/locality. GI gives protection to the group of people or associations involved in the production of the product using traditional skills and knowledge.

The manufactured goods should be produced or processed or prepared in that territory. This gives a special quality to the product due to geographical climatic environment, reputation, specific manufacturing farming skills, traditions and other characteristics attributable to origin.

It consists of the name of the place of origin & originates from a definite geographical territory.
