BEML Ltd inaugurates its District Office in Pune to facilitate Defence Industrial collaboration

Shri Shantanu Roy, CMD of BEML Ltd, inaugurates the new office

Pune | February 22, 2024 : BEML Limited, a distinguished schedule 'A' company under the Ministry of Defence (Government of India), marked a significant milestone today with the inauguration of its district office in Pune, Maharashtra. This strategic move is poised to foster enhanced industrial collaboration between BEML and defence establishments, facilitating a more progressive approach towards meeting the nation's defence requirements.

The newly established district office in Pune signifies BEML's commitment to bolstering its presence in key defence hubs across the country. Equipped with a dedicated team, the office will cater to the diverse needs of existing customers by providing a wide array of featured products, including high mobility vehicles, armoured vehicles, bridging systems, and more. Additionally, it will enable BEML to efficiently address the escalating demands for defence products from esteemed entities such as the Indian Army, DRDO, CVRDE, and other major defence establishments.

In his address during the inauguration ceremony, Shri Shantanu Roy, Chairman & Managing Director of BEML Ltd, commended on the relentless efforts of the team involved in bringing the project to fruition. He articulated his vision for the newly established office, emphasizing its strategic location within Pune, which will facilitate seamless collaboration with existing customers and strengthening supply-chain network while also catering to the needs of prospective clients in the rail & metro, mining & construction, and infrastructure sectors. Furthermore, he underscored the office's role in enhancing customer support by enabling efficient service and spare parts availability.

Pune, often referred to as the "Queen of Deccan," stands as one of India's foremost defence hubs, boasting a burgeoning ecosystem of MSMEs engaged in defence production. BEML's decision to establish a presence in Pune underscores the city's pivotal role in the nation's defence landscape. The strategic location of the new office will enable BEML to extend its reach not only across Maharashtra but also to nearby regions, facilitating enhanced customer engagement and support.

As Pune gears up to host one of the largest Defence Expos from February 24-26, BEML is poised to participate to showcase its prowess in defence production and other areas of business. The company remains steadfast in its commitment to advancing India's defence capabilities while also driving growth across diverse sectors.
